WASHINGTON, July 8—The Committee of Nine on Reconstruction have rrepared a bill. It places the State Government in complete subjection to the military commanders, whose previous acts are validated. It makes the Boards of Registrars judges of the qualifications for registration; for-bids the removal of commanders without the ad-vice or consent of the Senate, or sentance of court martial. It forbids the civil courts, whether Federal or State, from interfering with a commander or his agents acting under his authority, or from entertaining criminal or civil proceedings against them for any acts done under laws to which this is supplementary.

It is stated that General Herron, of Louisiana, is an applicant for the Mexican mission.

Washington, July 8.—In the House a large number of Bills were introduced and referred without debate. The Committee on Elections reported that no person who had given aid and comfort to the rebellion should be allowed to swear in; but disloyalty of constituents, or illegality of elections, should not prevent members from holding a certificate and swearing in. The report was laid on the table and printed. tificate and swearing in.

The rules were suspended and the resolution passed.

Mr. Stevens, from the Committee of nine, introduced the following Bill:

Let enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, in Congress assembled. That it is hereby declared to be the true intent and meaning of the Act of the 2d of March. 1867, entitled an Act to provide for the more efficient government of the recel States, and of the Act supplementary thereto, passed on the 23d March, 1867, that the government then existing in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas and Arkansas, were illegal and void, and that hereafter said governments, if continued, were to be subject, in all respects, to the military commanders of their respective districts, and to the authority of Congress.

Szorrow 2. That the said Acts to which this is a supplement shall be construed to authorize the officer assigned to the command of any Military District under said Acts, whenever he shall deem it necessary for the due performance of his duries under said acts, to remove or suspend from office any municipal or State officer or person exercising authority under or by virtue of any so-caller State Government existing in his district, and the said officer assigned to command as aforesaid is hereby empowered to appoint another person in the stead the officer or reason as removed it has all deem have been first advised or consented thereto, or unless by sentence of court martial; he shall be cashiered or dismissed from the army.

Secretar 5. That the time for the completion of the registration of persons properly qualified to vote may be extended by orders of the said several district semmanders to any day prior to the first day of Cetober, Anno Domino 1867.

It. Sevens accepted the following as an additional section:

Sheridan, Sickles, Schofeld and Pope.

Mr. Grimes thought it would be premature to pass these resolutions at this time. They were not sufficiently informed of the merits of the cases to be able to judge—formerly the thanks of Congress were only tendered on extraordinay occasions, at was considered a great compliment to any one to receive them, but if this kind of precedent was to be established, they would be tendering thanks to the Governors of our territories and of our hey Russian possessions.

Several other ineffectual efforts were made to introduce a general legislation, but failed, when the Bill reported by the Senate Judiciary Committee: That the true intent and meaning of the cath presented in said Supplementary Act is, among other things, that no person who has been a member of the Legislature of any State, or who has held any executive or judicial office in any State, whether he has taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States or not, and who has afterwards engaged in insurrection or port the Constitution of the United States or not, and why has afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof, is entitled to be registered or toyote, and the words "executive or juncial officer in any State" in said oath mentioned shall be construed to include all civil officers created by law for the administration of the several laws of the States.

In the Surratt trial the defence commenced, and three witnesses were examined, including an actor named Hess, and a theatrical costumer named Carlan—tha* Hess, who was to sing, asked the time, when Carlan replied, "ten minutes past ten." Hess exclaimed, "ten minutes past ten." Hess exclaimed, "ten minutes past ten! I'll be wanted soon." Witnesses knew Booth well; he was not in front of the theatre; none of them saw Surratt there. The Brothers Ford testified that Rhodes, from the position of the doors and passages, crald not have seen Surratt in the President's box on the day of the assassination.

Cotton and Corn Prospects in the South. A letter from Huntsville, Ala., published in the Cincinnati Gazette, says: Throughout Middle Tennessee and North Alabama a larger breadth of cotton has been planted than last year, though the increase in the number of acres is not so great as could have been desired. The wet weather of the spring prevented its cultivation to as great an extent as was desired, but now a hot sun and a clear sky gives promise of an abundant yield, if their energizing influences were properly seconded by the husbandman; and I know that they are so seconded. Every one, white as well as black, appears to be at work; in every field ploughs are turning under the rank growth of weeds, and the cotton, green and vigorous, is given the monopoly of the rich soil. I have conversed with a large number of persons from all the sections named above, and all say that, if no unforseen accident occurs, the yield of cotton will be at least twenty per cent.

greater to the acre than it was last year; and that this, added to the slight additional breadth planted, will yield to the country in the neighborhood of 3,000,000 bales; for, after all the croaking, it was discovered that 2,000,000 were sent to market from the crops of last year. But the terrible experiences of 1865 and 1866 compelled the Southern people to attend more to the raising of breadstuffs than to anything else. Something must be done to relieve the immediate wants; and as the wheat harvest occurs about the latter part of May, all who could sowed several acres of wheat-enough to furnish bread till their good staple and luxury -corn-shall be ripe enough to be converted into meal and hoccakes. The result is, that more wheat was sown in the South last fall than during any one year before; and so far as I have been able to ascertain, the vield will be unprecedentedly large; and as the crop is harto registration only such persons as they deem entitled to be registered as aforesaid. They shall not regard the taking of the oath prescribed in the last fall, and I regret to say that this class is acceedingly numerous. But those who did right of the person taking it to be registered, but we had a taken to the person taking it to be registered, but will pay for it in bread; and save in a few isoparon applying to be registered or others, and lated localities in the mountains, every cry for vested, we still hear of little suffering, save from those who will not put forth the slightest exertion to provide for themselves. The idlers and vagrants everywhere, and though they must not be permitted to die of starvation, they deserve but little commiseration.

An enormous breadth of corn has been planted in the region named at the outset; at least wice as many acres as in any year in the days of slavery, and though, like the cotton, it suf-fered from weeds, which grew with such luxuriance during the wet weather, it is now in fine condition, and will yield, according to the estimates made by intelligent and experienced persons, from ten to twenty per cent. to the acre, more than a usual grop. Corn, in the South, is subjected to fewer accidents than any other crop, and I think it may now be considered. free of all dangers of whatever nature. A protracted drought might injure it; but as it already shades the ground, little danger need be ap-prehended from this source. If the season continues favorable, very few provisions will be wanted from the North to supply the demands of Revolutionists Come to Grief. General Acosta's clever coup de main for the capture of the usurper Mosquera, has doubt-less so overjoyed the people of the Colombian States, that they may hasten to elect him President. He has, it appears, assumed the reins of authority only for the time being, until an election can be held for Mosquera's successor. Another proof of the latter's weakness is shown in the fact that the "Army of the Union," upon which he relied for support, secured his arrest in accordance with the instructions of their commander Acosta. Simultaneous with the news of Mosquera's overthrow comes the intelligence that another revolutionist and wouldbe dictator has died. General Castilla, the leader of the Peruvian rebels, was taken sick while marching upon the seaport town of Arica, which had pronounced in his favor. His tropps left him at a farm house and continued the march. Castilla, however, died in a few hours, and his troops subsequently sur-rendered to the Government forces. Order, therefore, is once more restored, and President Prado's authority is now resisted only by a small body of troops under Rivas, who will doubtless soon yield. All friends of Peru will be rejoiced at this turn which affairs have taken. Castilla, formerly Grand Marshal of Peru, and well known for half a century, was steadily gaining strength, and had he not been removed by death, he would probably have involved the whole country in turmoil and bloodshed. Ever restless and uneasy, the Peruvians were apparently flocking to his standard in some numbers, not because of any apparent dissatisfaction with Prado, but because of their innate fondness for a "muss" of some his reasoning faculties no less so. People here kind or other. Prado has shown himself to be and in the Valley flock to hear him, and his an unselfish President, aiming only at his countrymen's welfare, and if they are now not patriotic and sagacious enough to support him after electing him President by their votes, they are not deserving of peace and prosperity. fresh revolution, growing out of dissatisfaction his powers. attack of the Spanish fleet, and they accordingly, in some quarters, began to talk of deposing him. He still retains his place, however, and at the opening of the Chilian Congress on the 1st ultimo, delivered his annual message, in which he exhibited a defiant attitude toward Spain, and intimated that Chili would consent to no peace until Spain had indemnified the country for the losses inflicted upon it. This display of pluck will doubtless secure him his position until the expiration of his presidential term. All the people demand of him is that he shall continue to double up his fists and show

TO THE PUBLIC.-THE JEWISH CON-GREGATION (Berith Shalom) was organized in this city about ten years ago, and for temporary purposes contructed a small building near the corner of St. Philip and Calhoun streets. In this humble House of God they have ever since worshipped. It was their design from the commencement to accumulate funds toward erecting a larger edifice, more commodious, and mor, in consonance with the wants of the present age. But their savings were all swept away by the war, and nearly three thousand dollars, set apart for this purpose, were thus

The now house of worship is much needed, there being constant applications from new members, but no room to accommodate them. The services of this congregation are conducted in the German (almost identical with the Polish) Minkag. And this is the orly synagogue in Charleston in which Israelites from Continental Europe can worship the God of their fathers in precisely the same forms, language and ceremonies as their forefathers did.

They are, however, too poor to carry out such an en erprise unaided. They have the ground for the new synagogue, but not the means to construct the building. They therefore solicit assistance from their brothren and friends everywhere; both from those of the House of Israel, and from all others, of whatever faith or nation; believing that the Great Author of all good will prompt many to step forward and help them in this their time of need. They are extremely solicitous to finish their new building before next Rosh Hashanak (September 30), as there is every reason to expect a large accession of worshippers, far beyond the capacity of the present small

The new synagogue will be a large and handsome, though not expensive structure. Subscriptions or donn tions will be gratefully received by any of the undersigned officers of the congregation. Mr. B. A. WEINBERG, in a few days, will set out on a tour to the North and West to solicit contributions for the above nam d object, and the subscribers commend his mission to the liberality of every Jewish congregation G. content, Vice-President. P. JACOBY, Secretary. L. RICH, Treasurer.

The Jewish Messenger and, The Israelite will please sert the above four times, and send account to Mr. L. RICH.

BEWARE OF A COUNTERFEIT. December 10

A YOUNG LADY RETURNING TO HEL country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the city, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place o a coarge, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruby com plexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of tw nty-three she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used the CIRCAS TAN BALM, and considered it an invaluable acquistion to any lady's toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentlemen can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its mpurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be-clear, soft, smooth and beautiful.
